HOLIDAYS ARE OVER

Thank you to our readers for your support in our first year of publication

1118 saw a full twelve issues of the Patriot. We've explored strange and shocking things about Albion, the wider world and our very special heroes in the Lions Warhost. We've had three months off at the start of 1119 and will now be releasing two-page articles at a time to cover in greater detail the fascinating and dramatic events the people of Albion want to read about.

Bernicia will grieve

Brave dwarf of the warhost, Guinness, has headed to the great, stout halls of Melaphine. If we must die in the service of Albion then let us die surrounded by love and the remains of Albion's enemies. So did Guinness go, heroically slashing down the servants of the failed Gethan Gaharis.

Yes, Gethan failed! Read on for more!

A very royal appointment sees the principality of Norholt upgraded!

Bright beauty of the bold warhost of Albion, Elizabeth, Baroness Greystoke, shall be made Queen of Norholt in shock declaration by angry High King Rudraigh.

This is extremely welcome news and richly deserved by the passionate powerhouse that is the new queen and her and her people's exceptional efforts to see Norholt elevated in status.

Former Prince Greyhame's stepping down from ruling Norholt will be to spend time with his family in House Swan, the Albion house of heroes led by former Queen Graziella, the Grand Duchess of Anglia. Greyhame's rule was great and long and he's thanked for his mighty and continued service to Albion.

HURTFUL RUMOURS - STOP THIS AWFUL GOSSIP AND LET THE DEAD REST

We at the Patriot are very sad to hear of horrid and hurtful hate-oric being spread in Norholt. Late Baron Sir Alistair proudly sits in Melaphine's Halls. His charming widow has worked hard for Albion and is precious to her sister in law, Elizabeth. We are enraged at those who'd say otherwise.

ATTACK ON SANTIA - MYSTERY NOT YET SOLVED - INVESTIGATION IN PROGRESS

The people of Essex will be avenged for the poor pawn-making the pathetic perpetrators plotted.

GETHAN GAHARIS - AT LAST AN END FOR THE WICKED MONSTER

Gethan Gaharis, a grasping lord of Elmet for many years, has plagued the beautiful land of Albion by allying with evil demons. Too many to count have been murdered in his dark rituals and by his now dead necromancer and a corrupt cadre of killers. This went on for far too long whilst he kept his estates in Elmet, the kingdom governed by Steward Derek Braunley in King Gallad's crusading absence. Should Braunley step down? We'd love to hear what you think!

We at the Patriot will celebrate the demise of the dastardly, demented and depraved dick dangler now that he's delightfully deceased.

Gethan's many crimes included the murders of the saintly Sir Aldwyn of Damacest and Sussex (oh, swoon!) and the Lady Evangeline of House Swan in a foul, targeted attack by his demons.

We look forward to hearing of brave tales of Elmet's leadership in putting right the damage done to all Albion by the late Gethan Gaharis. He tried to unmake the ten kingdoms with his “dark prayer” and cruel, murderous ways. Sad! There's much to be done to heal this rift!

DAME PRYDWEN: NEW KNIGHT OF DUTY

Treading the path between membership of the Champion of the Gods of Law's priestly Septum of advisers and the Knights' Council walks the beautiful and mighty Dame Prydwen. Now that she's the new Knight of Duty, in place of the late Baron Sir Alistair, how will she balance the new role? After some tension between the two camps already we are very intrigued!

The Order of Avalon

New heroes for Albion! The Order of Avalon is an extremely old and traditional group of warriors who are dedicated to protecting the people of Albion. We can get behind this!

Seek out wise and wonderful Ailah, second to the Champion of the Gods of Law, for more news on what Avalon can do for you!

DEIRA: One of two royal lines will change this year in the exciting conclusion to The Monarch Games. We're glad this is a peaceful and happy process, to be conducted well by those who love Albion, and behave themselves.... Yes, you too. You prick.
